PRINCIPAL OF PINKERTON

Prof. George W. Bingham Resigns from Academy.

Special to The Union.

DERRY, May, 23.—Yesterday morning's brief announcement in The Union that Prof. George W. Bingham had resigned as principal of Pinkerton academy was a great surprise to everybody in Derry, except to those who were nearest to him in business relations. By all his stanch friends the announcement was received with expressions of deep regret.

For nearly a quarter of a century Principal Bingham has been at the head of this famous old New Hampshire institution of learning, and his administrative abilities have achieved wonderful success for the school. He has taken a deep interest in all the institution's affairs, has felt a personal interest in each pupil's mental developments and has watched with paternal care and solicitude over all the students' deportment. As an educator and a man of administrative ability Professor Bingham has few educator and a man of administrative ability Professor Bingham has few equals.

As a citizen of the town he has always manifested deep interest in its growth and development, taking an active part in those things and matters that would enhance its moral and religious life and interests. He has taken an active part in the temperance cause, and to him and his influence along that line is much credit for good results due. His teaching by precept and by example has been of the highest standard.

Many of the graduates of Pinkerton academy under Principal Bingham have been honorably connected with Dartmouth, Amherst, Harvard, Wellesley, Mount Holyoke, Trinity, Columbia, Boston university, the Massachusetts Institute of lechnology, normal schools and other colleges. The thorough, broad and effective training received at this institution has aided the students to continue with marked success along their courses of study till they have achieved marked prominence in some field of educational work. With much regret the many friends of Principal Bingham will see him relinquish his duties here, but he has reared for himself a monument in the line of educational work, and in molding and fitting young lives for usefulness, that will be more enduring than marble or granite.

On Sept. 5, 1837, George W. Bingham assumed the principalship of Pinkerton academy, the old institution that was founded in 1815 for the education of the youth of the land. That very year the present academy building was first opened for school uses.

Professor Bingham was born in Claremont, Oct. 22, 1838. He prepared for college in Kimhali academy Meridan. He are during the married Miss Mary Upham Cogswell of Northwood. Soon Peculiar Atmospheric Conditions Will Annother Comotis Approach.

General orders have gone out from the weather hureau at Washington for meteorological observations at all stations of the bureau on May 17, 18 and 19, especially on the latter. The object of the observations is to note the peculiar atmospheric conditions wrought by the close approach of Halley's comet.

Observers are requested to watch particularly, for halos, auroral displays, meteor trails, the "bishop's ring," color of the sunset and sky, twilight phenomena, luminous clouds, zodiacal light, counter-glow and general phenomena.

THE COMET

Halley's comet may be seen now any morning a little more than 40 minutes before the sun rises, if the eyesight is strong enough. The only difficulty is that the comet comes up over in the east about three-quarters of an hour ahead of the sun, and is thus obscured in the twilight. By the middle of this month the comet will come up more in advance of the sun and may be seen by people with sharp eyes if the atmosphere is clear. About 4 o'clock in the morning will then be the time to look for it. By the 30th it will be still more easily seen from 3 to 3.30 o'clock, before the sun lights up the horizon enough to obscure it. At that time the comet will be about 10 degrees north of Venus, and the people will have a good chance of viewing it. About May 6 the comet will be in the best position for looking at 2.30 o'clock, and then it will begin to get nearer the sun from our point of view, and about the 20th it will be seen in the west after sunset. Then it may be expected to make the best show ever in this country, and there is anticipated a fad for early evening parties of comet gazing. It is now more than 120,000,000 miles from the earth, but by April 20 it will be only 112,000,000 miles from us and by May 18 it will be within 14,000,000 miles from the earth, and that will be the time for nervous people for look out for the baneful effects of too much comet. The astronomers are not describing the comet in advance that all may recognize it, be-cause it changes form as it comes along, and they are not sure how it will appear. They have pictures of it taken a long time ago, but it grows old and may look more like a planet this trip about the earth.

FIRE SCARE AT SACO, Garage, Livery Stable and Blocks Threatened by Flames.

rear of Deering block, broke out this morning in a storehouse in the rear of the garage owned by Byron K. Dolby. The fire enveloped the shed where it originated and the connecting building before the firemen arrived. The garage and the livery stable caught fire, but the blaze was confined to the two wooden buildings.

Ernest E. Cushing, who was working on a boat in one of the skeds, rushed out and found the roof and side of the building where he was at work in fiames.

All the automobiles were saved and Mr Seavey made preparations to take out his horses and callings. The tenants in the nearby houses began to pack up their household goods. Chief Chellis and his men prevented the fire from spreading.

Mr Dolby's loss will not exceed $500, and the loss of Eugene F. Remick on lumber stored in one of the sheds will be $50. The forigin of the fire is not known.

Charles W. Wilson of Saco, Me, Served 57 Years for the Company -Some Early Trials.

SAGO, M. April 16—Charles W. Wilson, who recently retired as second hand in the York mills, after almost 57 years of service, has probably worked more years in the mills than any liv-ing operative.

"I don't remember of a person being on the corporation today," he said today, "who was there when I went to work in July 1800 Forace S. Hall, the present superintendent, and Mrs Melissa Hodgdon have worked there more than 50 years, but I think that I hold the record.

"I have worked under six agents, Messrs Boyd, Wetherell, Temple. Poss, Nourse and Elmer E. Page. The mill hands today who work 58 hours a week would kick some if they had to go back to the early days when we worked from 4:30 a m until 7:30 p m. We had to get up about 4 and be at our looms at 4:37 a m. We worked until 7, when we went to breakfast, returning at 7:30. We worked until 12:30, when we went to dinner, getting back into the factory at 1:15. From that time until 7:30 p m we worked continually. By the time we got home and ate supper it was time to go to bed, as we had to rise about 4. "It was mostly Yankee girls from the farming communities who were employed in the 50s. Harold Vincent Abbott, only child of former Senator and Mrs. Charles W. Abbott, passed away at the Abbott home on the Perkins farm in Londonderry, Saturday morning at 9 o'clock, after a long and very hard struggle with pneumonia.

Harold came home from Dartmouth college March 30, for a two weeks' vacation and was seized with chills the same day he reached his home. He gradually grew worse and Dr. L. G Dearborn was summoned. Pneumonia quickly developed and the closest attention was given his case. Six physicians were called to the case at different times and two professional nurses were with him constantly. The disease assumed serious and complicated features and from the first the gravest fears were entertained by the attendants. Every thing possible was done and nothing suggested by the doctors was allowed to go without a test trial. On Monday, April 11, an operation was, performed under the personal attention of Dr. Wilkins of Manch ester

This selection was very sweetly and impressively rendered. The benediction was pronounced by the Rev. A. Francis Walsh of Manchester

About the handsome couch casket was a profusion of most seautiful flowers, perhaps the largest and handsome t collection ever seen in Derry. There were large set pieces from the family and relatives, from Dartmonth college, from the State College, from Pinkerton, from neighbors and from friends.

Eight young men, who had been classmates and students with Harol4, were the bearers. They were, John McDonald and Arthur Buckman of Darmouth; Maurice Bradford and Albert Brown of the State college; Frederick J. Shepard, Jr., from Boston Institute of Technology; Louis W. Morse, from Bryant & Stratton Business college; Ira D. Knight, from Bowdoin college; and Clarence Proctor a gradnate of Harvard college

Following the church services the remains were taken to Forest Hill cemetery by Undertaker Gordon. At the last resting place of all that was mortal of the loved one the impressive committal service was conducted by the Rev. A. Francis Walsh.

A Fraternal Visit

A pleasant sociable was enjoyed at the Baptist vestry Thursday evening when the Y. P. S. C. E. from the Merrimack Street Baptist church Manchester, paid a fraternal visit to the Derry society. An interesting program including selections by the young people's orchestra, a vocal solo by Miss Graes March; a duet by Mrs. Durkee and Mrs. Kingsbury; a vocal solo by Miss Florence Gurvin; a duet by Miss Marion Anderson and Miss Willema Hartop, a reading by Miss Helen Guild and character songs by Mrs. Durkee and Mrs. Kingsbury, was a pleasing feature...

Refreshments were served and parlor games were enjoyed.

ELDORA J. WILSON.

Passed Away at Home of Brother Postmaster C. N. Garvin on Sunday.

Mrs. Eldora J. Wilson, the widow of Robert H. Wilson, for many years a resident of Londonderry, died at the home of her brother, Postmaster Clarence N. Garvin, at an early hour Sunday morning. Mrs. Wilson had been an invalid for several years, and had been in the home of her brother for nearly two years, where she had received the kindest care and attention. She was afflicted with a form of paralysis that rende ed her nearly helpless so that she r quired constant attention. She was as well as usual till a day or two before her death, when she became somewhat weaker, but still her douth was quite unexpected. Her age was 67 years.

Mrs. Wilson is survived by two sons, Frank P. Wilson, who lived several verrs in Derry, but now owns a large rane in Gypsum, colo.; and Harry W. Wilson, of Concord. One daughter died several years ago. Three biothers also survive, Augustus Wilson of Revere, Mass.; Chrence N. Garvin of this town, and Arthur O. Garvin of Saugus, Mass.

The funeral took place at the home of the brother Postmaster Garvin Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. The Rev. J. H. Nichols conducted the services, Interment was in Pine Grove cemetery in Manchester by Undertaker C. H. Gordon.

Mrs. Orren F. Page of Chester, has been visiting her fo mer neighbor, Mrs. Hattie J. Evans on Highland avenue. Her Derry friends were pleased to see her.

Death of Mrs. Adams.

The news was received here Monday of the death of Mrs. Elizabeth W. Adams, widow of George F. Adams, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Brickett, Melrose, Mass.

The funeral services were held Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Brickett, in Melrose, Mass., where she died, after an illness dating from last April. The services there were in charge of the Rev. Robert W. Haskins, of Reading. Mass.

Reading, Mass.
Mr. Haskins was pastor of the Central Congregational church in Derry when Mr. and Mrs. Adams were in active life. Mr. and Mrs. Adams were members of 'the choir when Mr. Haskins was installed as the pastor of the church here.

The services at the Melrose home were of a simple character. Beside the remarks and prayer of the clergyman, the four children, three daughters and one son, sweetly sang two familiar hymns, favorites of Mrs. Adams when in life, and a hymn was also read by Mr. Brickett.

The body was brought here Wednesday and was taken to Forest Hill cemetery by Undertaker C. R. Martin, and there the committal service was by the Rev. Frederick I. Kelley, pastor of the First church. There were many very beautiful and choice floral pieces.

The daughters, Mrs. George Brickett, Mrs. George Proctor and Miss Sadie F. Adams, and the son, Prof. Charles F. Adams, of the Salem, Mass., normal school, accompanied the body to its last resting place in the old East Derry com-

BANQUET

Ten of the Class of 1905, and twitte members of the Class of 1906, come together Thursday evening. June 17th at the ladies' parlors, Association hall, Derry Village, for their second reumon since graduating from Pinkerton cadeiny.

The first reunion was held two years ago in the form of a pieme at Beaver take and proved most successful in every

Put last week's reumon was a banner affair. Sociability and good tellowship reigned throughout the splendid dinner.

Those members of the Academy fac-ulty well-known to both classes, were guests of the evening.

The tables were tastefully decorated with the colors of the two classes. Large bowls of fleur-de-lis were set in the cen-ter of the tables and overhead were strung purple and white and orange and black streamers. The ladies' places at the tables were marked by a card attached to a bunch of pansies and the seats for the gentlemen were indicated by cards attached to bunches of bachelor buttons.

At six fifteen, thirty sat down to the most delicious and bounteous feast ever served at the Ladies' Parlors. The supper committee consisting of Mrs. Benjamin Chase, Miss Guernsey and Mrs. Frank How certainly satisfied the inner man by their attractive menu. They were most ably assisted by Miss Jennie Bartlett, Mrs. George Bampton, Mrs. Guernsey and Mrs. Newell, who gave faultless service.

A Notable Funeral.

An Iowa pastor gave out this notice on a recent Sabbath morning: The funers services of Mrs. Prayer Meeting will be held in the Sunday school room of the Presbyterian church on Wednesday evening at 7:30. She has been feeble for some time but recently her deeline has been rapid. Her death was not unexpected. The doctor could scarcely detect any pulse on Wednesday evening of last week. Cause of death is said to be heart failure from want of exercise and criminal neglect tof her family. The officers of the church are requested to act as pall bearers and the teachers and efficers of the Sunday school as honorary pall bearers. The choir is requested to sing.
